Junior High Spotlighted In New Report

The proposal to revamp the Salem school system to bring it abreast of current and future needs has spotlighted special attention on the Junior High School.

The former Senior High building on N. Lincoln bulges daily with a mass of young people like the structure has never seen before. Currently, 825 students in 7th through 9th grades cram the classrooms, halls, and cafeteria. If this same situation and the anticipated enrollment increase develops, nearly 1000 pupils will be attending five years hence, a projection of school population indicates.

A STUDY MADE in 1961 shows the junior high population will probably climb to 840 in 1966-67; 880 in 1965-66; 930 in 1966-67; 970 in 1971 and 975 in 1968-69. (A drop to 960 is anticipated in the 1969-70 year.) Based on the Board of Education's proposal of a four-year high school and a two-year junior high and on the current school enrollment figures, the junior high population (seventh and eighth grade only) has been estimated at 555 for 1964; 590 1965-66; 625, 1966-67; 650, 1967-68; 640, 1968-69; and 700, 1970.

Superintendent of Schools Paul F. Smith, reporting these predictions to the citizens building subcommittee, said the latter set of figures are based on present school enrollment figures and do not take into account any speedup in economic growth of Salem which would cause the school population to climb.

Besides the relief of the cramped junior high situation by transfer of 9th graders to the senior high, the superintendent has proposed other changes in the N. Lincoln St. building and its program.

A principle's administrative unit there, he said, should include a reception area, private office for the principal, a guidance counseling unit with a separate office to counsel three or four pupils around a table; a small switchboard for phone calls; a work room for principal secretary; fire proof vault or safe; conference room to seat 15 to 20; private testing room for a psychologist; and a health suite for eye testing, and with provisions for speech therapy, hearing testing and two or more recovery couches.

A TEACHERS' LOUNGE and workroom are recommended, built as one unit with a wall separating the two. The lounge area should be equipped with comfortable furniture, lamps, book racks, coffee making facilities and storage and a means of exhausting smoke, Smith said. Improvement of the junior high library was also considered important by Smith, including building the volumes to 7500 from its present 3200.

Instruction in language arts, social studies, mathematics and foreign language will take at least 14 general purpose classrooms plus auxiliary space, Smith said.

"While present schedules assign some designated classrooms to English and others to social studies, future scheduling patterns may assign one group of classrooms to the seventh grade and another to the eighth grade for a block-of-time instruction in a common learning program," Smith stated.

TO PROVIDE maximum flexibility in scheduling and optimum efficiency of room use, three clusters of four rooms around an independent study area and a cluster of two classrooms equipped for tape recorders for language use should be

Reilly PTA Told
Of Ungraded System

Children in Salem's ungraded primary have the books they need to develop reading skills, Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith told the Reilly School Parent-Teachers Association Thursday night.

The point was made after one parent raised the question, "Why don't we have a reading book for each child in each grade?"

Smith told the group, "In keeping with our understanding of the Ginn developmental reading program, which we use, it is necessary to have the textbook only when working with the teacher."

In the ungraded system, which comprises first through fourth grades in Salem school, teachers use the text when working with small groups of children, while the other children are working with supplemental material.

'Do and Learn' Project

"After the child has studied his new vocabulary and has developed reading skills, the child has an opportunity to exercise these skills in a little work book, 'My Do and Learn Book'." For the most part these books are used to develop independent reading skill. On the few occasions when the text is needed to respond to the material in the workbook, teachers share the books," Smith said.

The reply about book supplies came from the administrator after a parent claimed that children can't learn to read without a textbook at his desk. Smith said there are a total of 15 books for each teacher working at his level. "We have not denied materials needed by teachers, but have supplied texts, manuals, workbooks and pads, and as needed, additional worksheets run off in our office," the administrator declared.

Smith said the question is one of a type which naturally arises

Festive Decorations Erected

Downtown's Yule Lighting Is New

With Christmas just slightly more than a month away, the city is beginning to don its holiday garments.

More and more store windows are beginning to show Santa and his helpers preparing for the big day, and employees of Firestone Electric Co. are nearly finished with installation of the new downtown Christmas decorations, costing approximately $7,500.

The illuminated decorations consist of across-street spans of aluminum wreaths, bells and stars while the utility poles on State St. and S. Broadway are adorned with a variety of festive designs, also illuminated.

Val Galiati, chairman of the Solicitor Thomas Coe said today that he expects to file petitions within a few days against 19 firms and 42 individuals who have failed to comply with the city's income tax law.

Coe related that he will begin legal action early next week. The petitions will be filed in Northwest County Court on W. State St.

The violations, according to Coe, include final payments by firms and individuals for 1961 and 1962. He said that some employers either do not withhold the tax at all, or withhold it from the employee and fail to give it to the city.

The city income tax went into effect Jan. 1, 1961, and City Auditor Helen Coyne said "compliance with the ordinance, generally, is pretty good."

Campbell Men To Turn In Gambling Stamps

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Six Campbell men have promised to turn in their gambling stamps as the Mahoning County grand jury's investigation of rackets and crime nears the end of its second week.

In other developments Thursday:

—Prosecutor Clyde W. Osborne moved to have the 7th District Court of Appeals dismiss the appeals of five men jailed earlier and have them returned to jail.

—Five more men were jailed to contempt of court for refusal to answer questions before the jury on grounds of self-incrimination.

John Karantonis of Campbell informed the FBI that six persons holding gambling stamps have turned them over to him and that he would surrender the stamps to the FBI today.

Gov. Connally Is Wounded

BULLETIN

DALLAS AP — President John F. Kennedy, thirty-sixth president of the United States, was shot to death today by a hidden assassin armed with a high-powered rifle.

Kennedy, 46, lived about an hour after a sniper cut him down as his limousine left downtown Dallas.

Automatically, the mantle of the presidency fell to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, a native Texan who had been riding two cars behind the chief executive.

There was no immediate word on when Johnson would take the oath of office.

Kennedy died at Parkland Hospital where his bullet-pierced body had been taken in a frantic but futile effort to save his life.

Lying wounded at the same hospital was Gov. John Connally of Texas, who was cut down by the same fusillade that ended the life of the youngest man ever elected to the presidency.

Connally and his wife had been riding with the President

JFK Was Nation's Youngest President

John Fitzgerald Kennedy was the youngest man ever elected President and the only Roman Catholic.

While Theodore Roosevelt was about nine months younger when he entered the White House in 1901, he reached the office from the Vice Presidency as the result of William McKinley's assassination. Kennedy was 43.

and Mrs. Kennedy.

The First Lady cradled her dying husband's bloodstained head in her arms as the presidential limousine raced to the hospital.

"Oh, no," she kept crying.

Connally slumped in his seat beside the President.

Police ordered an unprecedented dragnet of the city, hunting for the assassin.

They believed the fatal shots were fired by a white man, about 30, slender of build, weighing about 165 pounds, and standing 5 feet 10 inches tall.

The murder weapon was reportedly a 30-30 rifle.

Shortly before Kennedy's death became known, he was administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church. He had been the first Roman Catholic president in American history.

Stumping President's Wife Charms Texas On Tour

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, perhaps reluctantly, is back in politics and she's a good campaigner.

Her smile charmed thousands in San Antonio, Houston and Fort Worth Thursday as she began a three-day Texas tour with her husband, the President.

She made a speech in Spanish and drew cheers and applause.

She ignored the plans of Secret Service agents and shook hands with hundreds who were forced to stay behind rope barricades.

At every stop the first day, Mrs. Kennedy took a cue from her husband and walked first from the presidential jet. Kennedy sometimes has been criticized for observing presidential protocol and walking a few steps ahead of his wife.

Shortly before midnight Thursday, Mrs. Kennedy still was going through her campaign paces.

When the Kennedys arrived at Carswell Air Force Base outside Fort Worth, the President and First Lady walked several hundred yards along a rope barrier, shaking hands and chatting with the crowd.

When the Kennedys arrived at the Texas hotel in Fort Worth, where they spent the night, they headed for the nearest throng and went through their hand-shaking act.

Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, was asked if the First Lady had enjoyed the experience.

"She loved every minute of it," said Mrs. Turnure.

It was the first day of the first stumping tour Mrs. Kennedy has made with her husband since he became the Democratic nominee for President in 1960.

She appeared to enjoy every minute even though White House aides frankly admit she would prefer to leave political campaigning to the President.

Mrs. Kennedy participated in the 1960 primary campaigns but stayed in the background during the general election when she was expecting John Jr.

Kennedy died of a gunshot wound in the brain at approximately 1 p.m. (CST) according to an announcement by acting White House press secretary Malcolm Kilduff.

The new President, Lyndon Johnson, and his wife left the hospital a half hour later. News-men had no opportunity to question them.

The horror of the assassination was mirrored in an eyewitness account by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., who had been riding three cars behind Kennedy.

"You could tell something awful and tragic had happened," the senator told newsmen before Kennedy's death became known. His voice breaking and his eyes red-rimmed, Yarborough said:

"I could see a Secret Service man in the President's car leaning on the car with his hands in anger, anguish and despair. I knew then something tragic had happened."

Yarborough had counted three rifle shots as the presidential limousine left downtown Dallas through a triple underpass. The shots were fired from above—possibly from one of the bridges or from a nearby building.

One witness, television reporter Mal Couch, said he saw a gun emerge from an upper story of a warehouse commanding an unobstructed view of the presidential car.

Kennedy was the first president to be assassinated since William McKinley was shot in 1901.

It was the first death of a president in office since Franklin D. Roosevelt died of a cerebral hemorrhage at Warm Springs, Ga., in April 1945.

Kennedy Praises TFX Warplane

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — President Kennedy praised the controversial TFX warplane today as he told Texans — whom he hopes will help elect him in 1964—their state ranks fifth in prime military contracts.

The President scheduled major speeches also in Dallas and Austin during a busy day. He and his wife will spend tonight at the ranch of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson near Austin.

Johnson and his wife accompanied the Kennedy's on the pre-presidential campaign tour of Texas.

Kennedy avoided direct comment on the Senate Investigations subcommittee's inquiry into the TFX contract award to General Dynamics Corp.'s Fort Worth division in a speech prepared for a bi-partisan breakfast, arranged by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

The subcommittee has heard some testimony that Boeing Co. of Seattle offered a cheaper and better plane.

"There has been a good deal of discussion of the long and hard fought competition to win the TFX contract but relatively little discussion of what this plane will be able to do," the President remarked.

He said that once it is in operation it will give the free world an aircraft that no other on earth can match.

Hitting a theme he also sounded at Houston Thursday night, Kennedy said that one of every $20 of prime military procurement contracts is being spent in Texas. He said this made Texas fifth in this respect. He added that the state also has a combined military-civilian Defense Department payroll of more than $1 billion a year.

"I do not recite these facts for partisan purposes, nor are

N. Waterford Write-In Held Not Eligible

The County Election Board decided Thursday it cannot issue a certificate of election to Corum Manzie, who was named to the New Waterford Board of Trustees of Public Affairs at the Nov. 5 general election with write-in votes.

Manzie was an "ineligible candidate" because he did not file the sworn statement of campaign expenses required by state law when he ran unsuccessfully for a village Council seat, the board ruled.

In the Council race, when his name was printed on the ballot, the candidate was listed as C. William Manzie. In the election for the trustee board, his name was written onto the ballot as Corum Manzie. However, the Election Board verified that those are variations of the same man's name.

State law provides that when a candidate fails to file a statement of campaign receipts and expenditures, he becomes ineligible to run for public office again for five years, the board pointed out in issuing its ruling. If Manzie does not receive a certificate of election, he cannot qualify for the post.

Frank O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, conceded that the board's action will leave one seat vacant on the village board. However, it will be filled "in a

Election Victories Confirmed In Recount

EAST LIVERPOOL — The victories of George E. Willshaw, Republican, for council president, and Donald E. Smith, Democrat, for Third Ward councilman, were confirmed in two recounts of Nov. 5 election returns made Thursday afternoon and night by the County Election Board.

The recount of 10 of the 34 city precincts in the council president's race cut from 21 to 16 Willshaw's lead over Arch H. Smith, the Democratic nominee.

Smith	2,868
The new totals in the Donald Smith-Welch contest are:

Always In a Hurry

The armed forces undoubtedly have everybody's best interests at heart in clamping down on the issuance of liberty passes.

A common type of highway accident involves servicemen going to and from home in too much of a hurry. Sometimes there is evidence they had been driving too long for safety; they were fatigued. Sometimes there is evidence they were driving too fast for safety; they were inviting accidents.

The armed forces explain that civilian safety is a matter of concern too, because accidents to soldiers, sailors and marines on highways frequently involve civilians. Therefore, the solution to the problem is to limit the distance a serviceman may travel on a liberty pass.

The Navy suggests about 300 miles. The Army leaves it up to local commanders, who are expected to level off at 250 miles. The Air Force isn't committed to a distance but is concerned about the bad reputation its men are given when their companions have traffic accidents.

One wonders now what happens when Pvt. Jones requests a pass to visit his ailing grandmother, who lives 600 miles away and is told it's too far. "But I am going by plane," says Pvt. Jones. Pvt. Smith, on the other hand, merely wants to see his girl friend who lives 317 miles away. He can make the trip by turnpike, he points out.

And does anyone really believe servicemen will drive slower going to and coming from home, regardless of distance. They will wait until the last minute to start back home, just as they have been waiting for the last 10,000 years.

Strong Man From Milledgeville

When Rep. Carl Vinson retires from the U.S. House of Representatives at the end of his current term, one of this republic's prize demonstrations will have been ended.

Rep. Vinson was elected to Congress in 1914 and re-elected to every Congress afterward. For half a century he kept piling up seniority until there were no more congressional worlds to conquer.

His great personal interest was in military affairs. As perennial chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, which bore different names in previous times, he was the most powerful arbiter in militarism in Washington. Over the long pull, he exercised more authority over military affairs than any of the commanders-in-chief he saw come and go.

It's the Season

The Christmas shopping season hasn't officially begun, but you can bet your bottom dollar that holiday shoppers will be well-armed for the hunt after today.

That $304,844 Christmas Savings Club "melon" which local banks are distributing to 3,750 foresighted penny-wise individuals will become expressions of love and admiration for close relatives and friends, helping to light the world with a brightness that ought to come more than once a year, but doesn't.

Purely Personal

Many times lately while driving a car or being a pedestrian I am overwhelmed by the sheer physical ugliness of the human race — and I hasten to add this includes my own misshapen body and trodden-on face. About one in each 1,000 of us is what could be called "nice looking" — one in 10,000 "handsome."

My solution for some of the problems that pester us is a constitutional convention, to spell out what we mean by separation of church and state, the 14th amendment and the U.S. Senate's advise-and-consent role. In the absence of clear definitions, wrong-headed people are getting away with mischievous distortions.

One of the things wrong with official roadside signs, a sore point with this columnist, is that they were intended for single-lane traffic, though they're now used on double-lane highways, meaning the driver on the inside lane cannot see them.

Legislators who have been sitting in judgment on everybody they feel like putting on the pan shouldn't squawk too loud because of the rising hue and cry to learn more about their qualifications as moral arbiters. They asked for retaliation.

I know of no sports story that moves me more deeply than the tradition of the Yale University football team that calls for the coach to turn over the Harvard game to the players, bidding them good-bye and good luck when they take to the field, then sitting in the stands, where I think all coaches belong once the game begins.

Typographical bloopers go in cycles, like locusts and pictures of Hollywoodian mammary marvels. For some days I have been bogged down in the nadir of the cycle, and it will be a miracle if this column comes through unscathed.

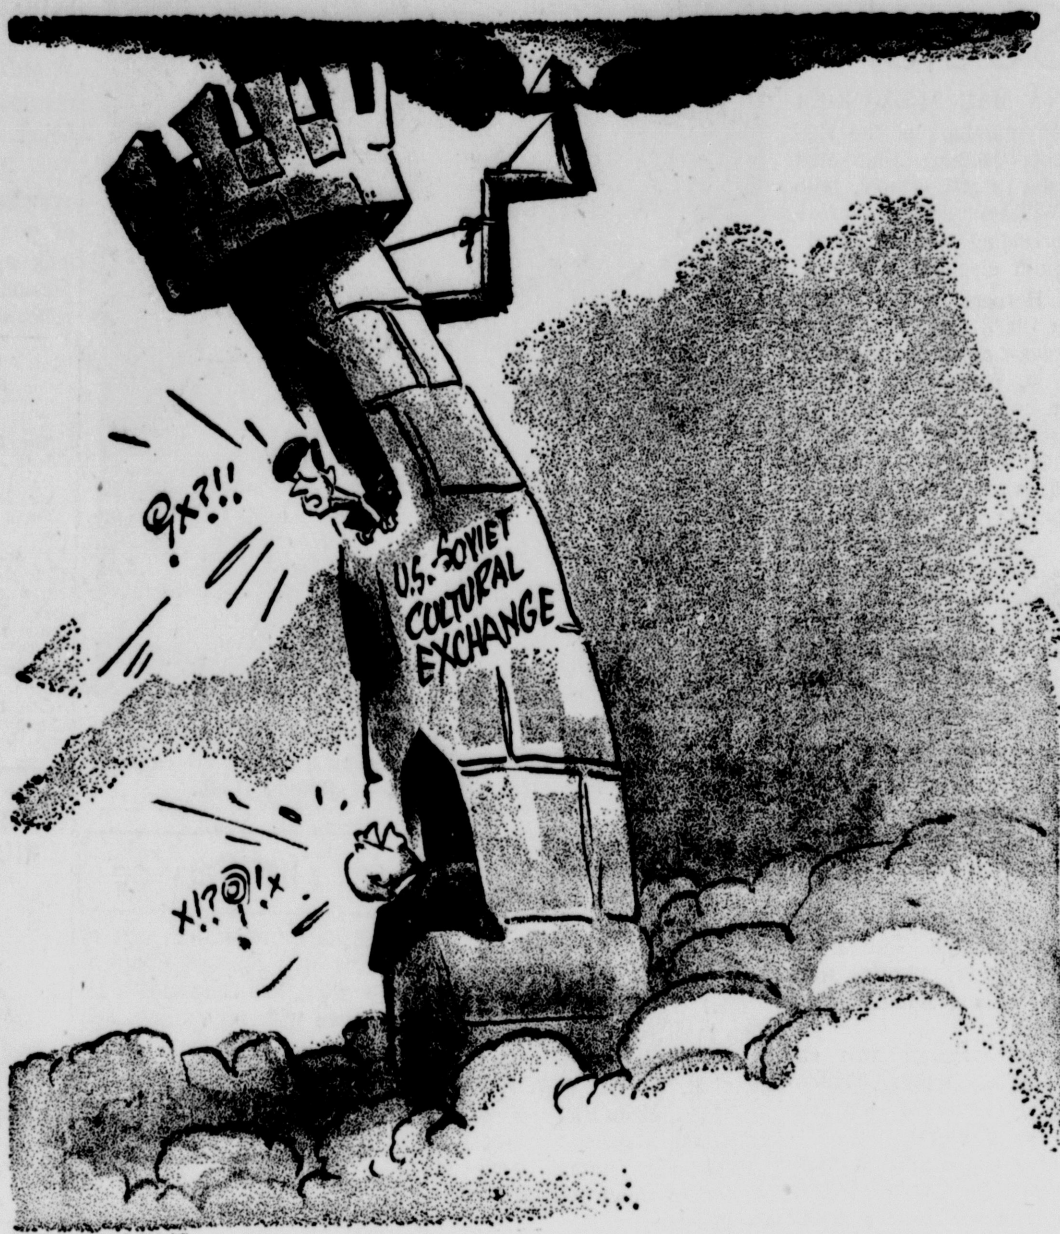

One recent day I decided something needed adjusting in the engine of my miniature struggle-buggy and made trifling adjustments in the position of two little screws I saw on a thingumbob that straddled the gizmo in the middle of the engine. Since then, the thing has purred like a tiger kitten. Never took a lesson in my life.

I think it is funny that I looked at the name of that Yale professor picked up by the rampaging Roosians and spelled it with two a's as well as two o's — Baarghoorn. I would have bet that was correct. Like the trouble I had with the extra h in Khrushchev, which is silent like the extra h in finish.

One of a sedentary worker's problems is shoes, which do not wear out but deteriorate from scuffing, dampness, twisting and squirming until they must be discarded though still superficially wearable in appearance. I'm on my way to the shoe store for the first time in nearly two years.

Trouble in the Ivory Tower

'House of Labor'

By VICTOR RIESEL

Jimmy Hoffa's unnoticed observers at the national AFL-CIO convention telephoned him reports which enraged the easily excitable teamsters' chief.

He was infuriated, not so much by the rebuff from a jury of his peers — 1,200 strong — but by the mocking, insulting, and casual manner in which they brushed off his two-year drive to get back into the "House of Labor."

The brush-off is one of the biggest stories coming out of this massive labor convention. For months, Hoffa's people had boasted that he would startle the country by proving his strength and popularity in the highest labor circles during the convention.

He expected powerful labor leaders to rise and fight for the readmission of the teamsters to the AFL-CIO from which they were expelled back in '57.

Instead, his support dwindled to an insulting low. Two years ago there were 25 resolutions introduced in his favor at the national convention. This time there were three.

Two years ago a string of national labor leaders and forceful speakers took the floor in his behalf. This time only two second-stringers arose. They were half-hearted. They did not support Hoffa personally, nor did they urge the immediate readmission of the teamsters. One of the speakers merely suggested the appointment of a committee to look into the matter.

TWO YEARS AGO hundreds of delegates applauded the pro-teamsters resolutions. This time, less than 50 delegates clapped.

To cap it all, there was loud and derisive laughter when AFL-CIO President George Meany referred to the teamsters' chief as a "character." Hoffa's name was hooted, too. Now he no longer can charge accurately that only Meany stands between him and the coveted admittance to the AFL-CIO.

The vote against immediate readmission was unanimous.

However, there is a simple formula for the prodigious teamsters' return to the "House of Labor."

Several national labor leaders told me they have sent word challenging Hoffa to use the formula. All he need do is write a letter to the national office asking for reaffiliation. A committee would be appointed quickly to meet with the teamsters. It would be pointed out that Hoffa would simply have to write the AFL-CIO's six Ethical Codes into his brotherhood's constitution.

THESE CODES have already been written into the constitutions of the AFL-CIO's 130 national unions. Mr. Hoffa undoubtedly will be fascinated by the titles of these codes:

Local Union Charters; II. Health and Welfare Funds; III. Racketeers, Crooks, Communists and Fascists; IV. Investments and Business Interests of Union Officials; V. Financial Practices and Proprietary Activities of Unions; VI. Minimum Accounting and Financial Control; VI. Union Democratic Processes.

Most interesting is No. III, on crooks and racketeers. It says, in part:

"No person should hold or retain office or appointed position in the AFL-CIO or any of its affiliated national or international unions or subordinate bodies thereof who is commonly known to be a crook or racketeer preying on the labor movement and its good name for corrupt purposes, whether or not previously convicted for such nefarious activities."

This code states that it is not necessary to wait for a court to convict an official, or for a conviction to go up through the appeals courts, before a union attempts to clean itself of undesirable.

"Obviously... a person commonly known to be a crook or racketeer, should not enjoy immunity," says the code, "to prey upon the trade union movement because he has somehow managed to escape conviction... determinations must be made as a matter of common sense and with due regard to the rights of the labor unions and the individuals involved."

NATIONAL AFL-CIO leaders say that if all but two small unions in their federation have adopted these codes, Hoffa should too. Then the AFL-CIO high command special committee would look into the teamsters, as they once did when the International Longshoremen's Association applied for readmission.

If there was complete compliance, the teamsters would be readmitted. If not, the committee, made up of labor leaders, would point out the areas which they believed should be cleaned up.

There are, for example, at least two national officers of the teamsters — a national trustee and a national vice president — who have been convicted of serious crimes.

If the AFL-CIO committee of inquiry were satisfied, the teamsters would be readmitted. Simple? Why, then, does Jimmy Hoffa not apply for a latch key to the "House of Labor,"

Loans To Reds?

By DAVID LAWRENCE
If the American people were asked to vote in a referendum as to whether they would like to see the United States government lend money to the Soviet Union to buy wheat — which, in turn, could make possible the shipment of Russian grain to Red China or Cuba — it hardly can be doubted that the verdict of the electorate would be overwhelmingly in the negative.

The Congress of the United States today is considering whether or not to pass a law prohibiting the Export-Import Bank — a U.S. government agency — from guaranteeing the recently proposed transactions for the purchase of wheat by the Soviet Union. So the people's representatives will soon have an opportunity to approve or disapprove the measure.

When the proposal to sell wheat to Russia was first announced, President Kennedy said it was to be a private transaction and "does not represent a new Soviet-American trade policy."

A few days later, it became apparent that a misleading impression had been conveyed. Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., told the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency on Wednesday:

"The financing arrangement for these sales to the Communist countries does represent a new departure — the United States government and the tax-paying citizens of this country are assuming full credit risk for these sales."

A loss sustained by the seller of the grain or the banks financing the sales by extending credit to Russia, Hungary, or other Communist-bloc countries is insured by the federal government through its Export-Import Bank. . . .

"NOW I PRESUME the reason that the Export-Import Bank was brought into this transaction to guarantee payment of the obligations assumed by Communist countries for payment for this grain is that no commercial banker or exporter is willing to assume the credit risk of repayment involved in sales to Communist countries."

"The private exporters and bankers are reluctant to extend their own credit in order to get the profit and income they will receive from these transactions. That is, they must regard the transaction as a bad risk and the Communists as unsafe debtors."

The South Dakota senator said that, while President Kennedy had declared that American grain would not go to Cuba, the wheat, "will simply become a substitute in Russia for the Russian grain which has been promised to Cuba and the other Communist countries." Mr. Mundt added:

Today In History

Today is Friday, Nov. 22, the 326th day of 1963. There are 39 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1935, the first trans-Pacific airmail flight began when the mammoth flying boat, the China Clipper, took off from Alameda, Calif. The plane landed in Manila seven days later after stops in Honolulu, Midway, Wake and Guam.

On this date: In 1918, the late King Albert of the Belgians entered the liberated capital city of Brussels following the end of World War I.

In 1943, the Roosevelt-Churchill-Chiang Kai-shek conference opened in Cairo during World War II.

"The Cubans will eat Russian grain and the Russians will eat American grain bought from American traders on credit. . . .

"The way, therefore, seems to be opened for us to make possible the feeding of our enemies in Cuba, in Red China and elsewhere even if we were all to agree to the shibboleth that Russia is not an enemy since Russia could use at home the specific bushels of wheat we sell it on U.S. government credit while shipping to our other Communist adversaries the Russian wheat which our American wheat replaces. . . .

"The American people and their Congress were led to believe that this grain sale would be a commercial cash transaction with private traders and bankers assuming any credit risk in return for a profitable sale and an interest-bearing loan."

POINTING OUT that the President, in his Oct. 9 news conference, had declared that "the grain dealers will take the risks with the private banks," Sen. Mundt said it now turns out that the government itself will assume the risk.

Mr. Mundt is the author of the pending bill which would cover credit extensions on the sale of any products to all Communist-bloc countries. He insists that the passage of the bill would not interfere with the planned sales of wheat and grain to Russia and its satellites, "provided the sales are for cash, for gold or for American dollars, or provided the granting of credit to the Communists is privately extended."

The problem of furnishing economic aid to countries that are potential enemies has plagued the Western Allies for many years. In the period prior to World War II, Mussolini of Italy had invaded Ethiopia, and it was proposed that the United States and other nations place an embargo on all shipments of oil to Italy.

The western allies did not stand together, and the embargo failed for materialistic reasons.

SEN. MUNDT, in a speech this week, said: "Unfortunately, desire for profit — sometimes in the form of thinly disguised human greed — has made it difficult for the United States to enforce this policy of restriction in trade with the Communist-bloc or even to win the support of the foreign countries which we aid with our foreign assistance programs."

It's true that some of the Allies of the United States — including those who have been receiving "foreign aid" — have been steadily increasing their trade with Russia and the Communist-bloc countries. This has produced resentment in Congress.

The question of trading with the Communist countries is likely to be a major issue in the next several months.

When a grade school had a fire all the kids marched out in order and the strange part is that they took their school books with them.

Coddled Cutie

Dear Ann: Our only child, Joanne, is a bright, beautiful, well-behaved 2-year-old. When we have guests over she always stays up until the guests leave. When we go visiting friends we always take Joanne with us.

Recently I've heard some friends say they think it is just terrible that we "drag" this child wherever we go.

We are usually home by midnight and then she sleeps until about 10 the next morning. We think it does not harm. What is your opinion? — MILLIE.

Dear Millie: Sorry, but Joanne should not be spending evenings with grownups, at home or elsewhere. You do this child no favor by feeding her a steady diet of adult conversation. Your friends are right to complain.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Is it possible for a man to be in love with his wife and have an affair with another woman? My husband insists it is but I have the feeling he is taking me for an idiot.

The woman is 15 years younger than I am and he has seen her half a dozen times. I learned of the affair, quite by accident and told him immediately he could have a divorce. His reply was, "I don't want a divorce. I love you."

When I asked him what was wrong with our marriage he said, "Nothing whatever. I can't think of a thing I would change." When I asked him why he stepped out on me he replied, "Because I'm a big jerk."

He has sworn on the family Bible that he never will look at another woman if I will forgive him and not mention this again. Should I believe him? Is it possible that a man who loves his wife would step out on her? — STORMY WEATHER.

Dear Stormy: Yes, it's possible — in fact, it happens.

Why do they do it? For a variety of reasons — the most common of which is variety. Period. What these Rover Boys get outside of marriage is sex and has nothing whatever to do with love.

I believe your husband is speaking the truth and I hope you will forgive him. I also agree with his self-assessment. He IS a big jerk.

Intercepted Mail

Dear Ann: I am a secretary to three editors of a well known magazine. Among my duties is opening and distributing of the mail to the various departments.

My problem is that several men in the office come by my desk every morning and read these letters. This irritates me no end. What can I do about it? — EDITORIAL SECRETARY.

Dear Ed. Sec.: Go to the top man in the outfit and ask him how he wants you to deal with the problem. Then follow his instructions.

Columnist's Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Now and then a fellow ought to rear back and take a long steady look at how he earns his living—and what his work means to him.

It came as something of a shock to me the other day to realize I had been writing a daily newspaper column for 20 years which made me feel something like a dinosaur: the typewriter.

I had to admit also to a feeling of humility. During those two decades I had composed more than 5,000 immortal messages to mankind, and what had they achieved? Very little, I must confess.

The world still seems embroiled in a great big mess, but I can't see that this is altogether my fault. No man can make a better world single-handed, and I don't feel I've had enough help on the job.

And besides, I'm not through. Give me another 20 years, and I may be able to save civilization yet — the modest goal of every columnist, in one way or another.

The life of a columnist is hardly what some romantic members of the public think it to be. In this beatific vision, the columnist dwells in a penthouse, rides to work in a chauffeur-driven limousine, spends his afternoons giving advice by long distance to President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev, and his evenings in the glamorous company of movie and society queens.

It hasn't quite worked out that way with me. My chauffeur is a bus driver, I live in a four-room, well-appointed tenement apartment, film dolls rarely invite me out to supper, and sometimes days and days go by without either Kennedy or Khrushchev asking me for help.

No wonder the world's in such a pickle. I haven't been given the tools to do the job.

Some more personal notes on the columnist's trade:

It enlarges the soul, but wrinkles the brain.

There are those who believe that writing a column is an easy racket, but Don Marquis said it best long ago when he described this peculiar form of industry as "digging a daily grave."

Nine out of 10 column readers firmly believe that, given the same opportunity, they could do a better job. And any columnist, if he is honest, must wonder if perhaps six of them aren't right.

What is the real reward of columning? It is that old cliché of the newspaper world—"You meet such interesting people."

People make up a columnist's universe, and they are endlessly exciting—the schemers and dreamers, the oddballs and the geniuses, the rut-contented and path plowers. And there is no danger of running out of fresh material, as more people are born every day.

There is one other reward. A columnist is free, in Horace Greeley's phrase, to seek "the bright sunbeam of truth." What more could a fellow want?

if you drive,

you must expect such problems as car break-down, travel accident, traffic arrest, lack of accommodations, uncertainty about travel routes and scores of others. These are not unique problems; they are dealt with every day by millions.

When such problems arise, you want service — not sympathy; protection — not promises.

Over 7 million motorists find the solutions to these problems through AAA membership. The clubs of the American Automobile Association have provided service and protection to motorists for over 60 years. And although there are many imitations of AAA service, there is no duplication of it, AT ANY PRICE!

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I own and operate a lunch room. This is the way I prepare French fries: Pre-fry French fries at 400 degrees just until the water is cooked out. . . three or four minutes!

Drain thoroughly and let stand until cold. Place in plastic bags and then put in the freezer. I have found this method to be very good and we never have any brown or limp French fries in our lunch room.

It takes only a minute or two to have golden crisp fries by putting them in your deep fryer again at 400 degrees.

SALLY ORR. DEAR FOLKS: Do let me give you a word of caution about disposals that will perhaps save you a service call.

Do NOT use disposals to dispose of . . . wood, metal, glass, string, paper, bones or chicken skin, etc. As an extra precaution I suggest that you do not put celery stalks in it either. Eventually this turns into strings. What a mess!

HELOISE. LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Here is an idea for that gift bottle of toilet water that you have received and will never use.

I poured some in my sprinkler bottle along with the water, and sprinkled all of the bureau scarfs, pillow slips, and cotton dresses before ironing. This is one way to use it up and everything smells good. Makes ironing faster.

Reader.

DEAR HELOISE: This might be common knowledge, but I just recently discovered it for myself, and was so thrilled that I wanted to pass it along to others.

If you wipe over your hot, plugged-in coffee pot with your soapy dishcloth (be careful you don't burn yourself) this will remove all of the ugly stains and leave it shiny and new looking. One does not even have to dry it!

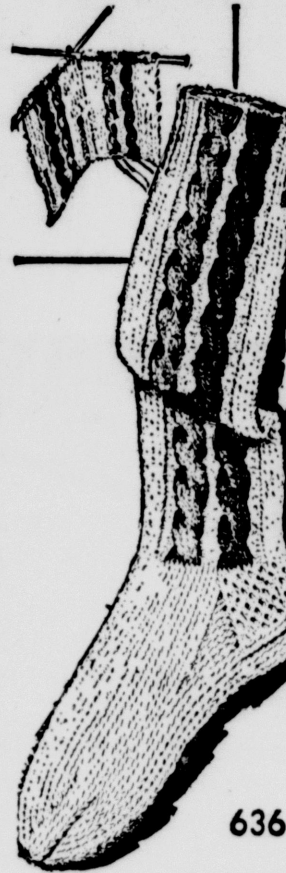

MS. B.

Yes, it works Mrs. B. May I warn others to please fold these dishcloths so they won't burn their hands on the hot pot?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I abhor ironing. Here's a way I get out of ironing my kitchen tablecloths: In stead of drying them thor-

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Doctor Must Determine Anemia Cause

Q—I have a slight nosebleed at least once a day. I have been operated on for it but it still continues. What would cause this? Is there a cure?

A—Recurrent or persistent nosebleeds are common and may be due to several causes, like the removal of hard crusts that form in the nose. You can Dr. Brandstadt prevent the condition by using a little petroleum jelly or mineral oil on the mucous surfaces.

Persons with high blood pressure are especially prone to nosebleeds. If this is the cause, the high blood pressure should be treated. Women sometimes have nosebleeds at monthly intervals in place of regular menstrual periods. The reason for this is not known.

A simple and effective way to stop the nosebleed is to apply an ordinary spring-type clothes pin, the ends of which have been padded with gauze or rubber.

Those who have tried it find it much less uncomfortable than using a gauze packing inside the nose. It should be kept in place for 10 minutes after there is no more blood in the throat.

Anyone who has frequent nosebleeds should be checked for chronic anemia.

Q—I have been treated for a peptic ulcer for about a year. The X-ray shows that the ulcer is healed but I still have my symptoms. Can an ulcer be cured after it becomes chronic?

A—With any of a number of methods of treatment most ulcers heal within eight or 10 weeks. If the stresses that caused the ulcer are not eliminated the ulcer may come back but even the most chronic ulcer can usually be cured with proper treatment and appropriate control measures should help to prevent recurrence. Since the X-rays showed the ulcer did heal, it is important to have your doctor determine whether your present symptoms are due to a new ulcer or to some other cause. Several conditions can cause the symptoms commonly associated with ulcers.

Prosecution Seeks To Rip Holes In Domer Testimony

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The prosecution was to try again today to punch holes in Robert K. Domer's story that he didn't wreck and burn his car to kill Howard F. Riddle.

Domer, 43, contends that Riddle died naturally in a motel room a day earlier and Domer was using the body to fake his own death.

Domer has been on the witness stand since Tuesday afternoon. He is accused of first-degree murder.

His testimony has pictured himself as a man made desperate by financial shortages in his mortgage business — shortages he admitted trying to cover by illegal acts, including forgery.

He testified Thursday that Riddle's body, covered with newspapers, was in the back seat of his car when he decided "to have an accident with the car and substitute Riddle's body in the car for me." To further this scheme, aimed at getting $238,000 of insurance on himself, Domer said he left his wedding ring, billfold and keys in the car.

Domer said he didn't even know the identity of Riddle, a 54-year-old Akron fruit peddler the defense has described as a man with a weak heart and a propensity for hard drinking.

"I had known him only as 'Howie,' Domer testified. "He never told me his last name."

Riddle's charred body was found in Domer's car in a rural area near the Stark - Wayne County line.

Prosecutor Norman J. Putman, in his cross-examination, sought to show that business pressures were nothing new for Domer and that the defendant had admitted only those forgeries and other illegal manipulations Domer knew the state could prove.

Putman contends that Domer was legally sane, knew exactly what he was doing and followed a carefully planned scheme to fake suicide so his family could collect $238,000 insurance. The scheme involved abducting and killing Riddle, the state charges.

Science Stressed

Science in the Junior High should provide an exploratory program to introduce pupils to different areas of science and to equip them to use a knowledge of science in meeting daily problems, the administrator declared.

Pupils will be grouped more flexibly in the future. In some cases, Smith said, pupils will meet in large groups of 60 or more to watch demonstrations or other audio-visual presentations. Or they might meet in smaller groups of 20 or less or work independently.

SMITH SAID THAT since more emphasis will be placed on laboratory experiences in the Junior High, a multi-discipline laboratory should be provided. He asked the committee therefore to consider a cluster of three classrooms, a laboratory room and a preparation-storage room.

Referring to the art program, Smith said space should be provided for ceramics, metal and leather craft and drawing. A variety of equipment and furniture and a supply storage need to be provided.

A tripled industrial arts program in junior high was advocated to improve manual skills. The expansion may entail the employment of an additional teacher, although Smith said it may be possible to coordinate the industrial and fine arts program so that one teacher could instruct in both areas.

Home-Making

Current weakness in homemaking instruction was brought into focus by the superintendent's report.

"This area takes on new and important meaning with each passing year. Early marriages, dropouts, interests in careers on the part of girls and women point up the fact that if homemaking in the fullest meaning is not taught both boys and girls of junior high age, many will never receive adequate training and may result in a divorce statistic," he declared.

He said many schools are putting more emphasis on family living and less on cooking and sewing per se. Smith thinks at least a year of homemaking should be required. "With some reorganization and planning, the present homemaking unit would suffice," he added.

Although Smith said the single room now available for music at the Junior High is fine for a limited program, provisions should be made to include an adjoining room for general music for seventh grade. Smith told the committee. Space should be provided for supervised small group or individual practice rooms and additional storage and teacher office space should be considered for the music program.

IN REFERENCE TO health and physical education at the junior high, Smith said present facilities should be adequate for a full program for both boys and girls. If a swimming pool should be considered by the committee and Board of Education, he said, regular instruction during an assigned block of time could be added to the physical training program.

The superintendent pointed out the increasing trend toward an emphasis on individual and dual sports, group activities and schools. "An attempt is being made to avoid overspecialization by greater concentration on a variety of activities with growing emphasis on such areas as dancing, corrective exercises, gymnastics, conditioning, wrestling, weight lifting, swimming, golf, tennis and bowling," Smith said.

FOR SPECIAL EDUCATION a room should be set aside for the educable mentally handicapped children, he said. Also a special room for continuation of planned reading experience should be considered and more mechanical devices and self-teaching aids should be provided.

Cafeteria Changes

Smith feels consideration should be given to use the cafeteria at the Junior High for other school-community purposes as well.

"Though we now prepare food at the high school and transport it to the junior high, some use might be made of commercially pre-packaged lunches or the use of electronic cooking as a supplement," the administrator stated.

He suggested a portable platform be provided so the cafeteria space could be used for audio-visual activities, testing services, small assemblies and evening community meetings.

Bills totaling $1,567 were paid.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 26. Howard Speirs, retiring councilman, invited the group to hold its meeting in the social room above Speirs' Market.

they the result of any partisan effort," he said. "They are the result of America's determination to be strong and this state's contribution to that strength."

Kennedy campaigned with all his vigor of 1960 and appeared well on his way toward enforcing a unity among Texas Democrats he regards as vital to his re-election in 1964.

Although there was no concrete milestone to mark the President's progress, Kennedy put his political arm around Sen. Ralph Yarborough. His action made it unlikely that either Gov. John Connally or Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson would drag the liberal Texas senator in this spring's party primary even had they wanted.

Disagreement among Democrats in the state, which the President carried by only 46,233 of 23 million votes in 1960, and needs badly next year, rests on long-time controversy between the party's liberals and conservatives.

Soviet Reply Hints at More Interference

Says Americans Trying To Draft Autobahn Rules

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union accused the United States today of trying to make the rules for Soviet policing of Western convoy traffic on the Berlin autobahn. The Russians warned they would not permit this.

Rejects U.S. Protest

A Russian note to the U. S. government rejected an American protest over the stalling of a U. S. Army convoy for 42 hours Nov. 4-5 because the Americans refused to dismount from their vehicles and be counted.

The Soviet reply renewed the threat of more interference with Allied troop convoys on the 110-mile lifetime highway between West Berlin and West Germany. The Allies insist they have the right to move on the autobahn as they like.

The Kremlin note said: "The claims of the American authorities to establish at their discretion the range of duties and manner of action of Soviet representatives at the checkpoint in checking American servicemen are in general absolutely untenable."

Since Oct. 10 the Russians have held up three American convoys and one British convoy at Soviet checkpoints on the autobahn because the convoy commanders refused to allow their men to be counted.

The Western Allies said their long-established procedure was to permit their troops to dismount for a Soviet headcount only if more than 30 men were aboard, not counting drivers and co-drivers.

The Western Powers spelled out this procedure to the Soviet Union Oct. 29.

During the six-week period since Oct. 10, a number of other allied convoys with less than 30 passengers have made the autobahn trip with interference.

The Russian note warned that "the entire responsibility for possible undesirable consequences of the violation by American servicemen of control procedure at Soviet checkpoints will rest entirely with the American side."

The U.S. protest note was delivered Nov. 6.

put their final seal of acceptance on the council's liturgy schema by a vote of 2,158 to 19.

All that is left for the document to become the council's first decree is formal promulgation by Pope Paul VI in a public council session.

It is expected to be held next Friday.

The vote was cheered by the council fathers.

After 13 months of deliberation in council and commission they had finally given Roman Catholicism its first council decree since the first Vatican council of 1870. That council proclaimed the concept of papal infallibility.

Today's vote was only a formality.

In a series of votes over the past two months the council had approved individual parts of the seven-chapter schema on liturgy, or public worship.

The vote took place during a pause in debate on the first chapter of another schema, a document on ecumenism, or Christian unity.

When the prelates return to work Monday after their weekend recess, they will finish up yet another schema — on the press, radio, television and the arts.

Like the liturgy schema, the topic on mass communications has received approval by sections and needs only the final formal vote.

The moment the Pope issues the liturgy decree, he gives permission to the Church's bishops to replace Latin in most of the Mass and in all sacraments with modern tongues.

Whether national and regional conferences of bishops want to do it will be up to them.

Advocates of the change hail it as a major move toward making the Church more comprehensible to non-Catholic Christians, many of whom regard Latin as a mysterious ritualistic garble.

Only object in the White House today that belonged to President Thomas Jefferson is a bronze inkstand.

Port Clinton Night Club Operator Slain

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — Peter C. Basiley, 72, operator of a popular night club on Ohio 2 west of here, was shot and killed early today and his body stuffed into a spice closet off the kitchen, the Ottawa County sheriff's office reported.

Basiley was planning to retire next month and had sold the night club he owned since 1946 to a Moose lodge.

The body was discovered in the closet shortly after 5 a. m.

Dr. C. R. Wood, coroner, ruled homicide by shooting and said Basiley was shot three times with a .25-caliber automatic revolver.

Sheriff Myron Hetrick theorized the shooting may have occurred during a robbery attempt.

The night club did a big business during the summer resort season and on weekends. During the week, Basiley tended bar and had one waitress working.

He lived in an apartment with his wife, Athena, above the night club. She has been in St. Vincent's Hospital in Toledo, however, because of injuries suffered in an auto accident 10 days ago.

Lights in the night club usually are turned off at 2 a. m. A neighbor noted they still were shining at 5 a. m. and she called police and the sheriff's office. A search turned up the body in the closet.

when a new school plan is instituted and misunderstandings of goals might develop. "Succeeding years will find many improvements in the program," he said.

Smith appeared before Reilly PTA members at the request of parents whose children this year were just initiated into the ungraded plan.

The purpose, he said, is to teach children the basic skills in reading, writing, spelling, language and arithmetic. These are the tools and skills children need to do the work of the 4th grade and above and which the ungraded primary in a carefully planned step-by-step way, gives your children, he told the group.

In the ungraded primary the child moves through ten levels. Each level of each subject is made up of a number of important skills which must be learned before a child moves to the next level in that subject.

"Because some are fast learners and some slow, some children will need time to learn the skills at each level and to finish the entire primary program," Smith stated.

In the new method, pupils progress at their own rates and are advanced step-by-step as the skills are learned. A pupil is expected to master the skills of all 10 levels before assignment to the fourth grade.

Further explaining the developmental reading program in use here, Smith said it is a continuous program stretching over successive years in a child's life. "The keynotes of the program are abundant variety and meaningful repetition," the superintendent said.

Continuity of growth in reading abilities from year to year is emphasized. "It is a program of breadth, depth and height," Smith said.

The superintendent said that while "the ungraded plan in theory is not a panacea nor a different method of teaching, it is a different method of organizing."

Ex-Youngstown Law Director On Stand Again

CLEVELAND (AP) — Samuel S. Fekett, former Youngstown city law director, was to be cross-examined in U.S. District Court today on testimony in which he denied that he had attempted extortion.

Fekett, 48, was indicted by a federal grand jury last summer on charges that he attempted to extort money from contractors doing business with the city of Youngstown in 1960 when he was city law director and a member of the Board of Control.

He took the stand in his own defense Thursday after Judge James C. Connell refused a motion for acquittal on grounds of lack of Federal Court jurisdiction and insufficient evidence.

Fekett said a $750 check he accepted from a Girard steel company was a legal retainer. He also denied that he had ever asked Patsy Pillorusso, head of the Pillorusso Construction Co. of Girard, for $5,000 at the Law Director's Office in City Hall.

Pillorusso testified Monday, opening day of the trial, that Fekett asked for the money when Pillorusso asked why his firm had not been awarded a contract for the Kirmere Creek culvert project. He said the company had entered a low bid of $79,844 on the project in May 1960.

Former Nominee For Mayor of Youngstown Dies

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Richard J. Barrett, 61, Democratic nominee for mayor of Youngstown until illness forced his withdrawal a few months ago, died today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

His death came only three months after he underwent brain surgery for a malignant tumor.

Barrett was serving out his first term as clerk of Municipal Court.

He first won prominence as an outstanding high school football coach in the 1940s at Campbell Memorial and Youngstown East. He had been a top grid star at Westminster College and John Carroll University.

Barrett is survived by his widow, Catherine, two sons, a daughter and a brother, Thomas, who is a state representative. One of the sons, Denny, is football coach at Youngstown Cardinal Mooney and a sports-caster for WKBN radio and television stations.

Funeral services will be 10 a.m. Monday at St. Dominic's Church.

Fairfield Ruritan Hold 'Guest Night'

Carnation corsages were presented to the 54 ladies who were guests when 57 members of the Fairfield Ruritan Club met Thursday evening for dinner at Heck's Restaurant. Chairman for the "guest night" event was Ray Candel.

Rev. William L. Woodall, pastor of the Leetonia Presbyterian Church, and author of several books, was the guest speaker. His topic "Operation Starvation" told of the existing relationship between the land-owner and tenant farmer in the deep south.

Rev. Woodall, a native of Georgia until the age of 10, retired from the ministry and went back to Georgia to re-activate the family farm spending several years there and returning to the ministry in the north where he has served the Leetonia church since.

The Gada-Vells, a women's barbershop quartet from Warren, entertained with several selections.

Richard Fox presided at the brief business session and announced the club would pack several baskets for distribution at Christmas to families in need.

"The Rural Church" will be the theme of the next meeting Dec. 19 at Heck's Restaurant. The 1964 officers will be installed at ceremonies in charge of past national president, Floyd Lower of Lisbon, and members will have a gift exchange.

Begalla Led Quakers In Rushing, Scoring

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

A football season is usually reflected by its statistics and the figures on the 1963 campaign tell the story about the Salem High school's 3-7 record.

In the important rushing and passing departments, the Quakers' opposition missed by 17 yards of going up and down the field 10 times more than Salem.

In rushing, 10 opponents went 2,085 yards in 440 carries and added 896 through the air for a total of 2,981.

Salem made 1,232 yards on the ground and 766 passing. Of the 26 statistics kept, Salem fell behind in 23 brackets.

THE QUAKERS COMPLETED more aeriels (56) but they also threw more (120), compared to 53 and 104 for the opponents.

Salem averaged 43 yards on kickoffs, while the opponents booted for 39 yards a try.

The Red and Black returned 43 kickoffs for 676 yards, with the opposition picking up 548 yards with 29 runbacks.

Fullback George Begalla picked up more than half of the Quakers' rushing yardage. He toted the pigskin 148 times for a net 765 yards. The 209-lb. Columbian County All-star first team selection also caught nine passes for 129 yards. He was the team's No. 1 scorer with 65 points, and excelled defensively.

SENIOR END ART SPACK caught at least one pass every game. He led the team by catching a total of 17 aeriels for 269 yards. The 180-lb. athlete scored three touchdowns and a two-point conversion during the campaign.

One of Spack's biggest thrills was the 80-yard TD aerial he caught from quarterback Larry Earley the first play of the Farrell, Pa., clash.

Earley was Salem's most proficient passer. He threw 85 times and completed 40 for 47 per cent. Four of his aeriels were intercepted. His passing eye gained 607 yards for the Quakers.

Sophomore signal caller Joe Rottenborn had 44 per cent of his passes hit the target. He completed 15 of 34 for 133 yards while seven of his aeriels were intercepted.

Halfback Mike DeRienzo, a 165-lb senior, was the No. 2 ball carrier for Coach Don Clarico's squad. He lugged the football 56 times for 197 yards.

A JUNIOR, DYER SCOTT, and a sophomore, Dave Fleischer, showed plenty of promise during the campaign and finished three and four, respectively, in the rushing division.

Both halfbacks, Scott carried the football 40 times for 159 yards, and Fleischer picked up 74 in 20 tries.

Cody Goard, a junior halfback, was used both as a running halfback and a flanking back for passing purposes. He made 68 yards in 14 rushing attempts, and caught eight passes for 197 yards. The 165-lb. athlete finished third in the scoring department with 18 points.

Salem opened the season by knocking off Cleveland Lincoln 18-14 but the Quakers then lost to Ravenna, 16-12; Lorain, 20-6; Farrell, Pa. 40-7; Akron North, 22-15; and Canton Timken, 14-13.

A FORFEIT BY RAVENNA gave Salem its second victory of the campaign. With its biggest offensive explosion, the rushing and passing to crush Wellsville, 42-26.

Losses to Boardman 42-8; East Liverpool, 48-6 and Geneva, 34-0, closed out the campaign.

Improved Michigan Buckeyes To Battle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Michigan's Wolverines, who have finished in the Big Ten's second division the last six years and dead last in 1962, have suddenly become a major menace to Ohio State.

Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes has an 8-4 record against his ancient rivals, including five of the last six, but he goes into Saturday's fray at Ann Arbor fighting to stay above the .500 mark for the campaign.

After scoring shutouts in the first two games, and being in contention for the conference title and the Rose Bowl bid until last Saturday, the Bucks have now dropped to where a defeat would give them the second poorest record of Hayes' regime.

While Ohio State has lost its last two tilts, the rejuvenated Wolverines have two victories and a tie in their last three and are riding the crest of an unexpected wave.

All-Ohio College Football All-Star Squad Is Selected

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Conference's 15 football coaches have picked their All-Ohio team, giving Wittenberg's unbeaten champions, Akron and Muskingum each five spots on the "dream" squad.

The only man named to both the offensive and defensive units was John Lahoski of Akron University. He made it as a fullback and a linebacker.

The coaches picked six All-Ohioans from the 1962 all-star squad, three of them from Muskingum. The Muskie repeaters are offensive center Dick Rider, defensive tackle Roger LaLonde and defensive guard Jerry Young.

Others who made the team for a second time are Akron's offensive guard Tony Butowicz and quarterback Charlie Green and defensive end Jim Worden, both of Wittenberg.

The first team selections: OFFENSE: Ends — Bob Cherry, Wittenberg, and Bob Wolfarth, Marietta; tackles — Larry Shinn, Baldwin-Wallace, and Dick Case, Akron; guards — Tony Butowicz, Akron, and Bob Carter, Baldwin-Wallace; center — Dick Rider, Muskingum; quarterback — Charlie Green, Wittenberg; halfbacks — Dale Dickson, Muskingum, and Larry Skeldon, Wittenberg; fullback — John Lahoski, Akron.

Bears Favored Over Pitt; Scribe Chooses Packers

Giants, Cards Clash To Feature NFL Action Sunday; 11 Games Are On Tap

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburgh and St. Louis can throw the National Football League into a wild scramble that could result in playoffs in both divisions if they can upset the Chicago Bears and New York Giants Sunday.

The Steelers, having upended Cleveland two weeks ago, barely sneaked past Washington last week while the Bears were beating Green Bay for the second time.

Chicago, leading the Western conference by one game, must whip the Steelers at Pittsburgh because the Packers figure to take it out on the weak San Francisco 49ers at Milwaukee.

The Steelers still are on the fringe of Eastern Conference race. They need a win to stay alive. If they upset the Bears, if St. Louis defeats the Giants and if Cleveland wins as expected over Dallas, there will be triple tie in the East. Pittsburgh then would be only one-half game back.

With four weeks to go the old batting average is 49-20-1 in the NFL, 18-16-3 in the AFL for an over-all 67-34-4. Here we go again (all games Sunday unless otherwise noted):

NFL

Chicago 21, Pittsburgh 17 — Not even John Henry Johnson and Ed Brown in a mood for revenge can crack the Bear defense.

New York 31, St. Louis 21 — Y.A. Tittle threw four TD passes against the Cards in a 38-21 victory Nov. 3. Loss of Dick Lynch may open Sonny Randle for Charley Johnson's pitches but Card passer will get the big rush again.

Cleveland 28, Dallas 21 — The Browns rolled it up on the Cow-boys earlier 41-24 and last home game could be reason to turn Jimmy Brown loose again.

Green Bay 35, San Francisco 7 — And how would you like to be playing the Packers this week? 49ers showed nothing against Giants.

Washington 27, Philadelphia 21 — Norm Snead-Bobby Mitchell battery clicking again but defense still shaky. Sonny Jurgensen's return could be decisive.

Minnesota 24, Detroit 21 — Despite 28-21 Lion victory in October, injuries have hit Detroit defense again with Night Train Lane doubtful.

Baltimore 20, Los Angeles 14 — California trips usually result in letdown by Colts but shaky vote for Baltimore and Johnny Unitas over Roman Gabriel, mostly on Colts' pass defense.

Green Bay 31, Detroit 14 (Thanksgiving Day) — Hardly a man is still alive who doesn't remember last year's game when Lions did Packers in 26-14. Packers won first game in September 31-10 when Detroit was healthy. A national TV audience will be watching and Vince Lombardi is a man who never forgets.

AFL

San Diego 24, Houston 7 — This could be preview of Dec. 22 title game. Chargers home after three-game winning road trip.

Oakland 21, Denver 17 — Raiders continue to surprise by staying on heels of San Diego, two back with four to go.

Boston 27, Buffalo 21 — Two teams are tied for second, a half game back of Houston. Although Bills won 28-21 Oct. 26, Boston should pull it out at home.

New York 28, Kansas City 21 — Both teams have been struggling but Jets are about due to win one at home.

Kansas City 28, Denver 21 (Thanksgiving Day) — If Chiefs rest of season at home they had better stop those gaps in Broncos' pass defense.

6 Loop Tittles, 2 Bowl Trips Spice Grid Action Saturday

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A half-dozen conference titles and trips to the Rose and Orange Bowls go on the line Saturday while a score of tradition-hallowed games spice the next to last big college football weekend of the season.

The key games pit Illinois at Michigan State and Oklahoma at Nebraska. All four teams hold national rankings and the winner of each gains a major bowl berth.

Still another bowl spot, the host role in the Rose Bowl, could be settled in the fight between Big Six leader Washington and Washington State, one of the many traditional games that defy the form sheets.

Probably the most hallowed of all is the 80th clash of Yale and Harvard, this time at New Haven, Conn. Harvard has a slim chance to gain the Ivy title, but—following league rules—will not be eligible for bowl bids.

Among the others, Arizona can clinch the Western Athletic Conference title by beating New Mexico while Duke and North Carolina tangle at Durham, N.C., with a chance to clinch a share of the Atlantic Coast Conference title.

Texas Plays Thanksgiving Day

Several of the big ones hold off for a week before their traditional wind-up games. Top-ranked Texas, the only remaining unbeaten, untied team and already certain of the host spot in the Cotton Bowl, closes against old foe Texas A&M Thanksgiving Day.

Second-ranked Navy, a prime bowl contender, closes its regular season at Philadelphia Nov. 30, shooting for its fifth straight triumph over Army. Mississippi, No. 3 nationally, waits until Nov. 30 to close out against Mississippi State while Alabama, No. 6, plays Auburn the same day.

Auburn, ranked ninth on a 7-1 record, goes against Florida State Saturday, and fifth-ranked Pitt visits old rival Penn State.

Mississippi is a top candidate for the Southeastern Conference title and a shot at either the Sugar or Orange Bowls. Navy,

Houston Returns To Lineup For Browns' Last Home Game

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim

Houston, who will be the left line backer for the Cleveland Browns when they close out their home schedule Sunday afternoon against the Dallas Cowboys, is happy with his switch from defensive end.

The former Ohio State captain who learned his football fundamentals at Massillon High School was installed at the line backing post, one of the most demanding in pro football, when he reported to the Browns' training camp last July.

The switch wasn't easy after three years as an end.

"I like the position now although I still have things to learn," Houston said Thursday.

"Physically, it's an easier spot than end. You don't have people stepping on you all the time.

"You do a lot more running. I'm down to 233 pounds now (he checked in at 240), but I feel much quicker. I think I'm beginning to do more of the things instinctively.

"Toughest part of the job, of course, is the pass coverage. A mistake there can cost six points."

New Coach Jack Mills Has 4 Lettermen

United Opens Cage Season Away Dec. 6

Eight candidates, four of them lettermen, are battling for the starting positions on the United High School basketball squad, which opens its season at Minerva Dec. 6.

Jack Mills, coming out of semi-retirement following a three-year layoff, said, "I probably won't make up my mind on a starting lineup until just prior to our first game."

The Golden Eagles don't have much height, but Mills hopes that hustle and desire will make up for the difference.

BILL McGRANAHAN, a 5-11 senior, and Ken Votaw, 6-0 senior, are two of the monogram winners on the squad. Last year the two athletes were among the scoring leaders on the team. Juniors Gene Metzgar, 5-11, and Homer Sturgeon, 5-11, are the other lettermen.

"We still need a lot of work on all phases of the game," declared Mills.

During the Thanksgiving holiday weekend, United will scrimmage Youngstown Rayen and Youngstown Chaney. Both schools are considered contenders for the "City Series League title" this year.

FOLLOWING THE Minerva tilt, the Eagles will play their first home contest against Sebring, Dec. 7. A reserve clash is slated to start at 7 p.m., and the varsity tilt is scheduled for 8:30.

The other candidates vying for starting spots are seniors Bill Grindle, 5-7; Ron Wicksham, 6-1; and juniors David Karn, 5-10 and Wayne Smith, 5-8.

Mills pointed out that there were 20 boys out for the freshmen basketball team and 45 boys competing with the seventh and eighth grade groups.

NEW BOOSTERS OFFICERS — Arnold Kovach (second from right) was elected president of the Salem Boosters Club at a meeting held in the Memorial Building Thursday night. Other officers voted to supervise the club in 1964 are (l. to r.) Dick Loutzenhiser, director; Don Beeler, secretary; and John Baker, treasurer. Not present were directors Calvin Filler and Clair Leeper, and Ken Everhart, vice president.

Kovach Elected Boosters Prexy

Arnold Kovach is the new Salem Boosters Club president. The Strouss store employee defeated Jim Lantz for the top office in the annual elections held at the Memorial Building Thursday evening.

Kovach, vice president of the club during 1963, will take over the reins Dec. 1 from Calvin Filler, who presided over the club during the past year.

The new president has been an active member of the Boosters for several years. He was instrumental recently in securing Eddie Finnigan as guest speaker for the Boosters Club annual football banquet at Salem Senior High cafeteria Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

Ken Everhart was voted into office as vice president. He served the club as secretary last year.

Don Beeler was elected secretary and John Baker, treasurer. Following the election, Coach John Cabas told the 55 members attending the meeting about his basketball program and prospects for Salem's coming season.

An interesting discussion on why Salem doesn't have a seventh grade cage coach and what can be done about securing one was held. School Board Member Gail Herron spoke.

Eastern Bracket Could End Up In 3-Way Tie

Pressure On NFL Division Leaders On Sunday's Card

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

You can't score if you don't have the ball. The coaches call it ball control.

And that's the way the St. Louis Cardinals plan to play against the New York Giants Sunday in what shapes up as the top pro football game of the day. A full slate of 11 games is on tap with every team in both the National and American Leagues in action.

Just as a week ago when they upset the Cleveland Browns, a victory over the Giants is a MUST for the Cardinals to stay in contention for the Eastern Conference NFL title. In fact, a St. Louis victory could very well create a three-way tie between the Giants, the Cardinals and the Browns.

The Chicago Bears, who gained undisputed possession of first place in the Western Conference by beating Green Bay last Sunday, tangle with the dangerous Steelers at Pittsburgh in another potent NFL struggle. In the others Dallas is at Cleveland, Baltimore at Los Angeles, Detroit at Minnesota, Washington at Philadelphia and Green Bay takes on San Francisco at Milwaukee.

In the American League Houston is at San Diego in a battle of divisional leaders, Oakland is at Denver, Buffalo is at Boston and Kansas City at New York in a Polo Grounds set to in direct conflict with the NFL clash between the Cardinals and Giants just a hop, skip and jump away at Yankee Stadium.

The Giants whipped the Cardinals 38-21 earlier this month in St. Louis as part of their five-game winning streak.

A St. Louis victory, coupled with a Cleveland triumph, would create the triple tie between the Cards, Giants and Browns. Each would have an 8-3 record.

Pittsburgh, 6-3-1, still has title hopes and if the Steelers upset the Bears, a St. Louis victory would really snarl the Eastern Conference standings. Not only that, but a Pittsburgh victory, coupled with a Green Bay triumph, again would tie the Bears and Packers for first in the West.

Fullback Rick Casares is lost to the Bears, but the current edition of the old Monsters of the Midway still are expected to beat the Steelers now that their first conference title in seven years is within their grasp. Injured quarterback Bart Starr may play for Green Bay for the first time in five games while Jimmy Brown of Cleveland can set and NFL season rushing mark by getting 81 yards against Dallas. He now has 1,447 yards and he set the record of 1,527 five years ago.

The Houston at San Diego fray is the top game in the AFL and it is being billed as a preview of the championship battle in December between the divisional title winners. The Oilers lead the Eastern Division with a 6-4 mark while the Chargers, 8-2, head the Western Division.

With the loser facing elimination, the Buffalo at Boston game is of No. 2 importance in the AFL. The teams now are tied at 5-5-1 for the runner-up spot behind Houston in the East. The Patriots in their first meeting this season.

OEA Opens Convention

Better Salaries Held Cure For Ohio Teacher Turnover

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The cure for Ohio's high rate of teacher turnover continue to lie in better working conditions and better salaries, delegates to the Ohio Education Association's annual convention were told today.

They heard a report by the Educational Council, the OEA's research policies group which recently completed a survey of school problems in Ohio.

Most of the teachers leaving the profession were earning between $4,000 and $4,999 a year, the study said, adding that men tended to go to other businesses or continue their education. Women, for the most part, cited family responsibilities and pregnancy as their reasons for leaving.

More than 20 per cent of the men included in the survey reported salary gains of more than $2,000 a year since leaving the teaching profession.

In other areas, the survey showed that a teacher's working hours extend far beyond the "9 to 3:30" public image. A typical teacher works 51 hours a week with secondary teachers putting in more hours than elementary teachers, the council reported.

More than a third of the resigned teachers included in the survey moved to another state to continue their careers.

California has attracted the most Ohio teachers, with Pennsylvania, New York and Florida next in order of popularity.

The OEA, which opened its convention Thursday, was told that teachers should not hesitate to take a more active part in politics.

Christmas Trees To Sparkle In Record Numbers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christmas trees will sparkle in American homes in record numbers this year.

All signs point to a new production high — 35 million trees cut and sold. To them will be added about 10 million Canadian imports. Americans will pay an estimated $100 million for the trees — also a record.

Last year Americans paid $96 million for some 33.3 million trees produced in the United States.

"There's no significant increase in price this year," A.M. Sowder, the Christmas tree expert in the U.S. Forest Service, said today in an interview.

For the fathers across the land who go down to the corner lot to buy the family's Christmas tree, there are 30 different species for choosing.

Last year the favorite choice was Scotch pine, replacing Douglas Fir which headed list in the last previous survey in 1960.

Pines hold their needles well, but some varieties of Scotch pines take a yellowish cast in the months preceding Christmas.

Sowder told of one grower who advertised them as "golden" pines and sold them for more than the green variety.

Gone are the good old days when families bundled up and went out to the fields or up the mountainside to cut their Christmas tree.

However, the old-fashioned tradition is coming back in a different way. Tree plantations near the cities now are offering customers a chance to come out and get their tree on a choose-and-cut basis.

United School PTA Plans Fall Festival

The United School Parent-Teachers Association will hold its annual fall festival Saturday at 7 p.m. at the school, according to Fred Bates, president of the PTA.

Highlights will include a country store, lunch stand, fish pond, game room, candy kitchen and fall harvest displays.

A record hop in the gymnasium will begin at 9 p.m.

Bates said donations for the affair can be brought to the school anytime before 7 p.m. Saturday.

Paul R. Lowry, 91, Oldest In Elks Lodge Here, Honored

Paul R. Lowry, 91, of 437 W. Fernside Ave., Youngstown, oldest member of the Salem Elks Lodge in both age and service, was awarded a 65-year membership pin at the lodge's annual inspection and dinner meeting Thursday night.

Lowry joined the Elks in October, 1898, a little more than three years after the local lodge was instituted. He served as exalted ruler in 1914-15 and was granted a life membership in 1917.

Born here July 24, 1872, Lowry was employed as a blacksmith, machinist and diemaker at the Buckeye Engine Co., now the E. W. Bliss Co. for 38 years. He later sold industrial oils. Since 1931 Lowry has been associated with his son, Pete Ray, in the operation of the Lowry Furniture & Carpet Co., Youngstown. Despite his age he is in excellent health.

Curtis Phillips, 90, of Salem, second oldest member of the lodge, was scheduled to participate in the ceremony but was unable to attend because of illness.

Phillips, a retired railway mail clerk, joined the lodge in March, 1900. He served as ruler in 1907-08 and was granted a life membership in 1954.

Lauds Lodge Work

Harold E. Parker of 1601 Southeast Blvd., district deputy grand exalted ruler of the Ohio Elks' Northeast-South District, praised the work of the local lodge at the meeting, especially in the fields of child welfare, teenage dances and Christmas parties for under privileged children.

Greenford School Board Extends Building Coverage

GREENFORD — The Board of Education of Green Local School District Thursday night purchased an additional $100,000 worth of school building protection from the Jones Insurance Agency of Salem, raising the total coverage to $800,000.

Because of the large amount of shop and other expensive equipment bought since the latest improvements in the school and curriculum, the group also agreed to increase equipment coverage by $20,000.

However, the board decided to defer action on industrial appraisal protection until "a more favorable situation exists," Superintendent Woodrow Bailey said.

In other action, the board last night okayed the application for an electrical and electronic training program under Title III at a total cost of $4,000.

Also approved was the newly adjusted tax rates as established by the Mahoning County auditor.

Minor, last-minute work on the new elementary wing was approved for payment.

The superintendent reported that classes will be recessed next Thursday and Friday in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday.

GREENFORD PTA met recently and was entertained by the Youngstown University Players who presented a play, "Green Blackboard".

The next meeting will be Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m. This will be the annual Christmas program presented by the school children.

The Grange members met recently. Mrs. Mildred Gednetz of Smith Grange gave the report on the state meeting. Lunch was served by Mrs. Cecil Kelly.

The next meeting will be Dec. 3 at 8 p.m.

Patterson Company To Absorb Subsidiary

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Colonial Iron Works Co. plant here, a subsidiary of Patterson Industries, Inc., will be closed and its engineering facilities and product line will be absorbed by the parent firm's Patterson division in East Liverpool.

Daniel Richman, Patterson President, said Thursday an overlap in the facilities of Colonial and the Patterson division was the basis for closing the plant, which employs about 60 people. He said about six key personnel would remain with the Patterson organization.

Colonial has been a designer and fabricator of specialized equipment for the process industries for more than 40 years.

Nasser, president of Egypt, was born in a farming village about 200 miles from Cairo and attended school in the Egyptian capital.
